

Latimacto

At Latimacto we are convinced that more impact is possible!

We help to mobilize capital strategically for a greater impact.

Latimacto is the network that gathers more than 160 impact-driven investors that provide human, intellectual, and financial capital in Latin America to help them maximize their impact through innovative knowledge and orchestrate partnerships and collaborations that enable a more strategic deployment of capital.

We connect PURPOSES to maximize impact!

Connections:

We promote partnerships and new collaborative ways to invest and leverage resources.

Knowledge:

We provide tools and training on how to finance social and environmental initiatives, why to invest in them, and how to measure their impact. Our three focuses: tailored finance, non-financial support and impact management and measurement.

Our services range from providing tools and training on how to finance social and environmental initiatives, why to invest in them, and how to measure their impact, to promoting partnerships and new collaborative ways of investing and leveraging. We are confident that by building a community with diverse sectors and actors, we will provide effective solutions to social and environmental problems.

We are different because we work collaboratively and through a community of unusual actors.

Some of our impact achievement

We are more than 156 members
